Student Loan Fund Receives $2,700 Gift

The Northwest State College Student Loan Fund was increased recently with a gift of $2,700 from Mrs. Abbie Bell Colden Alexander, Tarzana, California, and Mrs. Vi June Colden Hawthorne, Stanberry, Missouri. The gift was presented in the name of their parents, the late Charles J. and Jessie McGrew Colden. It was Mr. Colden for whom the classroom building was named.

Mr. Colden was instrumental in locating the college in Maryville. He was a member of the first college board of regents which organized on September 12, 1905, and met in the assembly room of the Maryville Public Library.

He was born in Peoria County, Illinois, in 1870, and moved to Nodaway county, Missouri, when he was ten. He attended the Stanberry Normal School and Shenandoah College at Shenandoah, Iowa.

After teaching school in Missouri and Iowa for several years, he became editor and publisher of the Sentinel, Parnell, Missouri, and later publisher of the Nodaway Forum, Maryville, Missouri. He served the Missouri House of Representatives in 1901 and was an important influence in securing the public library for Maryville.

Colden selected the inscription "And the truth shall make you free" engraved on the Administration Building. He also awarded monetary prizes for scholastic achievements.

Extensive Evaluation Program Is Planned

All students will have a chance to evaluate the faculty this fall.

Two student opinionnaires will be given to the students. The first one will be given in a class of the faculty's member's choice.

The second opinionnaire will be given to the students in the 9 a. m. classes on Dec. 5 and 10 a. m. classes on Dec. 6.

The advisory committee will also study grade points given by the teachers to their students.

The results of the opinionnaires and the grade point averages will be turned over to the Committee on Rank and Merit to be used as part of the faculty evaluation.

This year's evaluation system is more extensive than has been used previously.

Philosopher To Speak to Newman Club

Father Malachy Sullivan, O. S. B., will be the featured speaker at the November 30 meeting of the Newman Club, to be held at 6:30 p. m. in the Ad building auditorium.

Rev. Malachy Sullivan, O.S.B.

Father Sullivan, chairman of the philosophy department at St. Benedict's College, Atchison, Kansas, will speak on "A Philosopher Looks at Philosophy."

The guest speaker earned his doctorate of philosophy from the University of Louvain, Belgium.

An open discussion will follow the meeting. All interested are invited to attend.

Two Co-eds Have Poems Published

Poems by Linda Kay Jones and Darlene Schmidt have been accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

The accepted works are entitled, "Hope," by Miss Jones; and "The Uselessness of Tests," by Miss Schmidt.

Prizes and Publication For Literary Efforts

Two literary awards will be made this semester by the Northwest Missourian in co-operation with the English department.

Prizes

Two awards of ten dollars will be made for the best poem and the best short story respectively, submitted for the special edition of the Missourian to appear in January. The awards are limited to students of Northwest Missouri State College.

Any student who has written a short story or a poem is offered the opportunity of having his work published in this "literary magazine" addition which will also include some humorous and critical essays.

Work submitted must conform to these rules: it must be on 8 1/2 by 11 paper, typewritten, double spaced, or handwritten double spaced, and only one side of the paper must be used. Each page of a manuscript must be clearly identified with the author's name. Each manuscript must have a cover page on which must appear in the upper left hand corner: the title, the nature of the work (i.e. poem, short story, essay), author's name, age and class.

Poems will be limited to 30 lines; short stories and essays to 1200 words.

Manuscripts may be given to any member of the English department; if a student is not acquainted with any member of the English department, he may give his work to Dr. Frank Grube, chairman. All manuscripts and publication rights will remain the property of the respective writers. No payment can be made for any work except for the two awards. Every effort will be made to return all manuscripts, but neither the English department nor the Northwest Missourian can assume any responsibility for any manuscript.

Deadline

Manuscripts must be submitted no later than Dec. 15, 1961. A student may submit as many entries as he wishes, but each must have a separate cover page.

High School Librarians Have Annual Workshop

The second annual High School Library Associates' Workshop was held Saturday, November 18, here on campus. Approximately one hundred students and librarians from the Northwest Missouri area attended the meeting.

This workshop served to introduce students to the college and to the profession of librarians.

Dick Clark Picked Man of the Month

Dick Clark has been named as the Blue Key Man of the Month for November.

Clark, a senior majoring in P. E. and minoring in Social Science, was selected on the basis of leadership, citizenship, and sportsmanship, both on and off the gridiron.

Play Entering Practice Stage

The Heiress, second major drama production of Northwest Missouri's 1961-62 season, will be presented during the second week of January.

Named for the leading positions in the presentation are Jean Morris as Catherine Sloper, and Norman Wilcox as Morris Townsend. Jean will play the role of an heiress to whom Norman makes love.

Being presented by the college drama interpretations class, The Heiress will be given as a theatre-in-the-round. The action will take place in the Little Theatre, ground floor of the Administration building.

Based on Henry James' Washington Square, The Heiress was created by Ruth and August Goetz.

Starts Jan. 10

The play is scheduled to open on Wednesday, January 10, and run through the following Friday night; curtain time will be 8:00 o'clock.

Other members of the cast are Rebecca Book Maria; Bill Hardesty, Dr. Austin Sloper; Priscilla Porter, Lavinia Penniman; Pat Dunham, Elizabeth Almond; George Fountain, Arthur Townsend; Rose Ann Gard, Marian Almond; and Katherine Johnson, Mrs. Montgomery.

A friend of mine reported that his daughter was most unhappy at Texas University — until she joined a fraternity.

From the Reader's Digest

Dick was team captain of the Bearcat Gridders this season, and he was named to the MIAA second team last year.

Coach Baker Says

Head football coach, Earl Baker, commented on Clark, saying, "He is an outstanding individual on and off the gridiron which is doubly important. Dick's biggest asset to the team was in his leadership, which incidentally, is concerned with his abilities as a player rather than with giving pep talks. With Clark's drive and determination, the other team members looked up to him for the key play."

Clark calls Maquokata, Iowa, his hometown. He was graduated from Maquokata High School in 1956, and before coming to NWMSC he attended the State University of Iowa. There the 'Man of the Month' played on one of Iowa's Rose-bowl teams.

Family Man

Dick is married, and he and his wife Carol, have a seven month old boy, Dick, Jr. The Clark family lives in College Heights.

Clark's future is centered around athletics as he plans to coach after graduation.

Whitney's Four Goes Unbeaten

In the three games won by Whitney's team they scored 530, 640, and 540 points respectively for a total of 1710 points.

Yesterday's contest featured the teams of Sigma Tau Gamma: Jim McCoy, captain; Phil Richmond, Gene Vogel and Larry Kulisek; against Tau Kappa Epsilon: Bob Briggs, captain; Dick Devers, Stu Bitner, and Gary Barber. The score was not available at press time.

Officer Training Info

Officer Training program information will be available Dec. 6 and 7, when the Marine Corps Officer Selection Team will be on campus.

The 'How' vs. The 'What'

Thank Heavens, we are not a teachers College! After the bomb that Evan Hill dropped in the November 11, Saturday Evening Post on teachers' institutes and the quality of people that they are putting out, it isn't safe to mention you are an education major.

Mr. Hill attacks, rather violently, but not novelly, the courses that teach future teachers the most important things in life; such as 'How to develop the whole child,' and 'How to provide for all students.' Hill maintains that more basic knowledge subjects such as English, mathematics, the humanities, and science should be taught.

Why, the article even goes on to say that teachers leave college with the knowledge of how to teach, but lacking the subject matter, or what to teach. (We're smarter than a high school kid, anyway) Hill further states that a third to one-half of a student's college credits in education courses is too much. (It is according to NWMSC's curriculum.)

And who is to blame for all these sins? Hill maintains it is the education instructors, the administrators, and the students. The instructors are poor teachers, he maintains; the administrators are poor curriculum makers, he asserts; and the students are terribly dumb, he believes. Now everyone knows the entire blame is solely manifested by the latter.

The remedy for the situation is complex, according to Hill, but there are ways out. The revamping of the courses to reduce the time spent in them, and other cures are suggested. His most favored remedy seemed to be the tighter screening of students so that only the most intellectual people make it into college in the first place. (This is better than reducing the number of education courses.)

So, lay off the faculty, Mr. Hill. There is nothing you can say that will convince us that we have a professor Rosebud on the faculty. And as far as that goes, we students are in the process of blooming. We think you should educate the 'whole child!' Have you noticed what happens when you don't? Our reaction to Hill's criticism? Old hat.

They're Talking About . . .

New Industry: The manufacturer who is producing various parts of the adolescent anatomy for teachers who don't want to educate the "whole child." Bridge, Escape, what ever that means . . . Turkey trotting time . . . Noise warnings . . . Stuck in the mud, running out of gas—likely stories . . . The movement to start Girls' Intramural wrestling . . . Flu, colds, double pneumonia, and the weather . . . Our muttering editor! . . . Vacation! Yippee! ! ! ! !

The 'Twist' Twists On &amp; On

Carolyn Enis

A new field of study is being opened to those interested at NWMSC. The Course, "Twist 2," has three sections.

A dependable source was heard to say that this course is offered only in the "Bearcat Den." Instructions are being held Mondays at 6:30 and at various times during den dances.

Text Used

The general text for the course is "Rhythm in Bodily Movement." The instruction follows this main outline: the left foot is placed about 12 inches from the right, at a right angle to the arch of the right foot; the arms are bent at the elbow, so that the forearm remains parallel to the floor; the hips are pivoted from left to right in time with the music while the arms act in the opposite direction. For example, if the right hip is swinging to the right, the right arm is traveling toward the left. Simultaneously, there is a backward-forward motion originating at the waist.

Inadequate Facilities

The inadequacy of the classroom was brought to the attention of those in authority when it was necessary for many of the students to stand on chairs to see the instructors. An effort to remedy this situation was put into effect at the next den dance.

The well lighted room answered the problem to a greater degree than was foreseen. Now it is possible to see the instructors, because the remedy managed to weed out all the amateurs. This in turn gives the instructors room to really do the dance properly.

QUESTION: In your opinion, what is the proper attire for boys to wear to classes?

Karen Popalsky, Freshman, North Kansas City, Mo.

Anything but baggy jeans and green sweatshirts."

Penny Pendleton, Sophomore, Chillicothe, Mo.

Anything but these terrible levis! Slacks are for college boys—leave the levis for the cowboys."

Tina Rivas, Junior, Montevideo, Uruguay.

"I think they should wear sport clothes for classes."

Barbara Hall, Freshman, Kansas City, Mo.

"Slacks and a shirt or sweater."

QUESTION: In your opinion, what is the proper attire for girls to wear to classes?

Don Soper, Sophomore, St. Joseph, Mo.

A girl should wear clothes that are conservative and attractive on her, even though they are not the latest fad."

Larry Frazho, Freshman, Roseville, Mich.

A girl should wear the clothes that she feels, look best on her. The main thing a girl should take into consideration is if her clothes are neat and clean."

The Students' Soapbox

Dear Sir:

Recently there has been some talk about the student senate putting automatic cut-offs on the phones of the girls' dormitories.

I would like to take this opportunity to voice my opinion and that of several other girls in the dorm on that idea. WE DON'T LIKE IT.

It seems to me that the student senate is going just a little too far with its authority to do things. Just what does dorm life have to do with student government? Both dorms have governing councils (dorm council and AWS) that are elected by the girls themselves—to run the dorms as they think best and see fit. Suggestions, yes . . . Let us do the acting.

While discussing this matter a few questions have come to our minds. Just what happens if a person gets a long distance phone call? Some people do talk for more than three minutes. Sometimes it takes three or four minutes to find a person who is receiving the call. This works both ways—when someone is calling in, or a girl is calling out—especially when they won't even answer the quad phones. It would be a fine thing to finally get to the phone and be cut-off before the conversation even started.

We all admit we have a big problem. Two phones just aren't enough for 25 girls. That's like putting 125 people on one big party line—which it is. But cut-offs aren't going to help much. Sure, it may have its advantages of more girls getting to use the phones, but that's not the answer. What we need are more phones or a switchboard and a little more courtesy among all girls in the dorm.

Library Offers Check-Outs On Art Prints

Are you artistically inclined? Would you like to liven your room up with a little art or cover that bare spot on the wall? The library has the answer to your problem.

There are some 150 pictures of assorted shapes and sizes available to any student living on campus of NWMSC. They are all prints of recognized pictures by both the old masters and modern artists. There is a variety of subjects from which to choose.

These prints may be checked out at any time and kept as long as the student is enrolled in college. The usual time is for one semester; but it may be longer, if he wishes. Some students even plan decorations around a certain picture. Special consideration is given these students when checking out prints.

In addition to the pictures themselves, the library also has catalogs showing various prints. The staff can tell students how and where they can order any print of any picture. Most prints cost around five dollars with the framing at additional expense.

Remember the library is not only a place where books are stored, but also a cultural center. Why not give it a try?

Opportunity For Novice Writers

"Esquire Magazine" and "Bantam Books" have recently announced that a nation-wide contest for short stories by previously unpublished writers is currently being held.

Entries may be submitted by any writer who has not been previously published by a nationally distributed hardcover or paperback publisher or by any magazine with a national circulation of more than 25,000.

January 15, 1962, is the closing date for entries, and the winning stories will be announced April 15, 1962.

The love-struck collegian was trying to reason with his father. "But don't you believe two can live as cheaply as one?"

"Certainly," growled Father. "Right now your mother and I are living as cheaply as you."

Book Report

Tim Johnson

Catcher in the Rye, J. D. Salinger Little, Brown 1951.

Many novels could have for a title, Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man; particularly first novels since these are the most autobiographical and are often written by young writers. Being frequently sensitive and intellectual, writers are naturally concerned with the plight or role of this type person in society. Thus, many novels are about such persons—whether young or old. Even more popular works, such as the play Stage Door, present a stereotyped character of an artist as rebel against society.

Holden Caulfield, protagonist of Catcher in the Rye, is such a person, sensitive and intellectual. He is the morality of that part of today's youth which aspires to more than conformity and financial success. Holden hates hypocrisy. His most derogatory term is "phony," and his primary opponents are phonies. But a mental institution is Holden's reward for refusal to compromise his ideals with his human environment. Salinger's portrait of the artist's conflict with today is not optimistic.

Cracker Barrel Correspondence School

At last it can be told! At last it has been done! The Cracker Barrel Correspondence School improved its curriculum in a way that has been equalled in industry only by the terrific breakthrough achieved by the telephone company when it was able to package its phones in colored plastic, as well as in black, or by the toothpaste company which now offers its glue in a blue box instead of a red one!

The CBCS has now added a course to teach students—women students—to do what comes naturally to most students, men and women. We actually propose to teach students to relax. Just to think of it makes us quite limp and gooey.

We thought the millenium had been reached. We found we could give college credit for dancing; then we learned of a western college which sends students to a summer camp for two weeks and gives college credit; but now "relaxation" is surely the ne plus mostest of college courses.

Enough of this badinage. Now that the college has achieved this greatest curriculum advance since the Harvard report recommended abandoning the elective system, it will not rest on its laurels (students are not allowed to rest on the laurels unless they furnish their own), and hardy; not even on its abbot and costellow. The next step is a truly creative and relaxing course for men, like dogwalking (described on your transcript as "Field Work with Dogs").

Then there's fishing . . . ah, me, this is limited to women. We have added for you girls: Applied Cosmetics; and Field work in dress wearing. What possibilities. For men and women: We continue our ever popular Field Work in Social Dancing. A girl could combine homework by relaxing as she dresses for the prom; then by attending the dance do class work in Field work in Social dancing; Field work in costume wearing dresses; Field work in Music Appreciation.

And by attending 16 dances she could complete her semester of college work! It figures!

So why be a dumpkoff? Why be an ignoramus? You, too, can have a college degree—just write CBCS.

Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

On the campus sport scene, the football have been deflated and other grid equipment has been mothballed until another campaign. We now turn our attention to varsity wrestling, basketball and swimming.

Mat Mutterings

Glancing at the grapplers' sport, Dr. Peterson is quite pleased with the efforts of the wrestlers who have previously competed for Maryville and is looking forward to the coming season.

Wrestling was added to the NWMSC athletic curriculum only four years ago, but the Bearcats already have compiled a record of 29 victories, three losses and one tie. During the 1958-59 season, Maryville boasted a perfect 10-0 record.

Last year the 'Cats were successful in winning seven of 10 matches and finishing second in the Missouri Valley AAU meet.

On the Rebound

Bouncing over to the hardwood sport, we find that the Bearcats have three of their leading scorers in uniform again for this campaign. This trio includes the leading 1961 'Cat scoring leader, Jerry Mezmarich, who averaged 18 markers per contest; Don Drake, who tallied 9.6 points a game; and Paul Lizzo, who scored at a 7.2 average per outing.

As basketball has grown more popular and complex, rule changes have occurred nearly every year; this season has been no exception.

Revisions

Three major rules revisions will go into effect this year. One of the three major changes calls for the elimination of free throws on all offensive fouls. The offended team will simply put the ball in play from out of bounds.

Moss Opinions

Coach Moss has made this comment opposing this step. "I feel that any time a foul is committed there should be a free throw." Although this ruling will speed up the game, it could definitely make a difference in a tie ball game with only a little time left."

Other key changes call for the clock to be stopped after every violation to permit coaches greater opportunity to make substitutions if they so desire; and a one-foot buffer zone between the first and second players lined up for freethrows. This is expected to lessen shoving and jockeying for rebounding positions.

Swim Splashes

Varsity swim-team work-outs began Wednesday, November 15. In regard to this Coach Bensusan said, "I am very pleased with the large turnout of 40 men. Undoubtedly many will quit when they find out how strenuous a sport this is—but we have enough swimmers for two good squads. We plan to swim as many men as possible in the home meet." The team is in preparation for its first meet at Wentworth Military Academy on January 11.

We congratulate Dick Clark on being Blue Key "Man of the Month." The honor was well-earned!

Smith Heads Alpha Phi Omega

Richard T. Smith was installed as president of the Alpha Phi Omega fraternity on November 15, 1961.

Other officers installed by Mr. Miles Grabau, APO sponsor, are: Bill Brandt, first vice-president; John Bush, second vice-president; Pat Murphy, recording secretary.

John McClaran, corresponding secretary; Larry Norfolk, treasurer; Dalton Jones, historian; Paul Sorensen, alumni secretary; and Russell Van Vacter, sergeant-at-arms.

APO members are looking forward to sponsoring the annual "Ugly Man Contest" and carnival next spring which will be held for the purpose of raising money for the Student Loan Fund.

Dr. Ross Takes Position With State Department

Dr. Mildred E. Ross, formerly of the NWMSC education department, has accepted a position with the division of foreign service, State Department.

Dr. Ross is now attending a Portuguese language school before beginning her work with the new Agency for International Development (AID) in Belo Horizonte, Brazil. There, she will be working as an elementary education advisor with the new organization responsible for the foreign aid program.

Dr. Ross came to NWMSC in 1956 and instructed in education courses. A native of Pennsylvania, she holds a BS in education from West Chester State Teachers College, and an MS and Doctorate of Education degrees from Pennsylvania State University.

This past gridiron action shows a Bearcat defensive player making a desperation tackle of a charging Springfield back. This play occurred in the Homecoming game.

P. E. Chairman Heads Mo. Ass'n.

Dr. H. D. Peterson, chairman of the health and physical education, has been named president of Missouri Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Peterson will assume his duties in Jan. 1962, and will serve until June, 1963. He was installed at the recent Missouri State Teachers convention in St. Louis.

Dr. Peterson has served the group as vice-pres., pres.-elect and in other official positions for the past 10 years.

Faculty Attends State Teachers' Meeting

Several NWMSC faculty were among teachers who attended the state teachers meeting in St. Louis recently.

H. R. Dieterich, Dr. H. D. Peterson, Dr. Howard George, Dr. Wanda Walker and Everett W. Brown were among those attending.

The NWMSC reception was held from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at Hotel Sheraton-Jefferson, St. Louis.

Aggies Take 1 and 2 Shots

The NWMSC Aggies took first and second place in the college division of the Annual Ag Club Livestock Judging Tour held here, Nov. 11.

Aggie team members include Charles Patterson, Wayne Hartman, and Al Waddel. Northwest State's Charles Patterson received the honor of being high scorer among the college participants.

Approximately 125 took part in the all day event which included F.F.A. Chapters, 4-H Clubs, and college teams.

Other winners in the event were Nodaway County 4-H Club in the 4-H division and Tarkio High School in the F.F.A. division.

The Maryville Chamber of Commerce and the Nodaway Valley Bank furnished trophies, and the Missouri Farm-

Many Tankers Start Training

The large turnout for this year's tanker squad may prove to be an advantage in this years meets. There should be enough good swimmers to make up at least two well rounded teams.

Eight returning letterman are among the 40 swimmers out for this year's squad. The returning are: Ed Atkins, Dennis Bean, Hal Gentry, Richard Kasperson, and Scott Marriott.

Other team hopefuls include: Richard Okinaka, Marvin Reaksecker, Jerry Rose, John Wilson, and Gary Allsop.

Practice for the swim team started Wednesday, Nov. 15.

The team practices are from 4 to 6 on week days and 3 to 5 on Saturdays. The divers will practice at 7 a.m. in the morning on week days and at 2 o'clock on Saturday.
